

Art Basel Miami Beach: The Weekend Guide

Gallery Diet

Among the guiding lights of Miami contemporary art is Nina Johnson-Milewski, the gallery owner whose star is on the rise. At just 27 she has already established a fan base and artist community who are all dedicated to her space in the Wynwood district, including Renzo Rosso, the owner of Diesel denim. She's known for her knack for mixing design and conceptual art, as well as her ability to spot up-and-coming talents like the young designer Emmett Moore. As you head out, be sure to pick up the latest issue of her free art paper Miami Rail, and settle down to reading it with a perfect espresso at Lester's, the cool coffeehouse/bar owned by her husband Dan Milewski around the corner.
